PHILOMATH SCHOOL DISTRICT 17J

EXPLANATION OF DISTRICT INSURANCE

Philomath School District 17J is very appreciative of the substantial contribution made by staff, parents, and other persons who assist in District sponsored activities. It is our desire that these activities be safe and as free from hazard or injury as possible; therefore, we urge you to read the following material carefully.

In the legal sense, volunteers are not considered employees of the district; therefore, workers' compensation benefits are not available. If a volunteer is injured or becomes ill while in the normal scope of their duties with the district, any medical expense that results should be referred to the volunteer's own medical insurance provider.

At the same time, if an injury to a volunteer is caused by the negligence of the district, or a district employee, the volunteer would have the same rights as any person as respects instituting a third party claim against Philomath School District. It is suggested that such items be discussed with the business manager of the district.

The district does carry excess automobile liability for the volunteer, as it does for employees. This will provide coverage for liability over your own personal automobile coverage if you are using your personal or borrowed vehicle while participating in an authorized district approved and sponsored activity. Physical damage to your personal or borrowed vehicle is not covered under the district coverage and is the responsibility of you and/or your personal insurance company.

The district is able to insure the legal liability of volunteers, as it does for employees while they are working for the district. If a volunteer should inadvertently injure someone else, or damage their property in either an automobile or non-automobile situation, this should be reported immediately to the school principal. We want to be in a position to respond promptly to any such claims that may be made against you.

Because in most instances, both a volunteer's insurance and the district's insurance may apply to a claim, you should also advise the agent for your homeowners or automobile policies of any instance that may occur. The volunteer's insurance will be used first before district insurance is activated.

Should any volunteer have a question concerning the availability of the district's insurance coverage, please forward your requests directly to the business manager of the district. Every effort will be made to give a prompt response.
